Monte Grix is a partner in the firm's Santa Monica office. He has represented a variety of employers with respect to labor and employment matters, including higher education institutions, tech companies, restaurants, hotels, manufacturers, electronics distributors, general construction contractors (union and non-union), retailers, aerospace companies, government contractors, and agricultural companies. His practice emphasizes both litigation and counseling in traditional labor and non-union settings.

On the litigation side, Monte handles employment discrimination, harassment and retaliation claims, wage and hour class actions and employment-related trade secret/intellectual property/non-competition claims. Monte has successfully litigated for his clients in arbitration, at trial, and on summary judgment. On the advice side, Monte counsels employers with respect to a broad range of employment law issues, including wage and hour compliance, record-keeping, and employee disability accommodation. He also has experience conducting neutral investigations for private sector employers with regard to internal discrimination, harassment, wrongful discipline complaints, and ethics compliance, internal employment eligibility (I-9) audits, and OFCCP compliance matters.

Monte is bilingual in Spanish and conducts employee trainings in both Spanish and English.

In his spare time, Monte likes to stay active. He has hiked up Mt. Whitney, run a half marathon, and completed several century (100 mile) bicycle rides.
