“I bring a roll-up-the-sleeves approach to helping our clients minimize legal risk and create solutions that drive organizational growth. The success of our clients isn’t just a goal—it’s our highest priority.”

Adam Maldonado is a partner in the firm’s San Francisco office. His client base is varied, from early-stage startup ventures to midsize and Fortune 500 companies.

A seasoned litigator and former prosecutor, Adam handles a broad array of employment litigation, including defending employers against claims of discrimination and harassment, wrongful termination, retaliation, breach of contract, and wage and hour class action violations. Adam is routinely called upon to help clients navigate complex matters involving trade secret and intellectual property theft, unlawful competition, and the enforcement of restrictive covenants.

In addition to litigation and counseling, Adam regularly conducts confidential, high-stakes investigations for clients facing allegations of workplace violence, discrimination, sexual harassment, and employee misconduct.

A native San Franciscan, when away from the office Adam enjoys exploring the Bay Area outdoors with his wife, two children, and border collie.
